A frame title

And its subtitle

Body text goes here. Keep it to a few lines: the frame title and the Takeaway bar carry the point, and the body carries the detail.

Lists work the way you expect:

- one idea per bullet, in parallel grammar;
- one highlighted phrase per slide, no more;
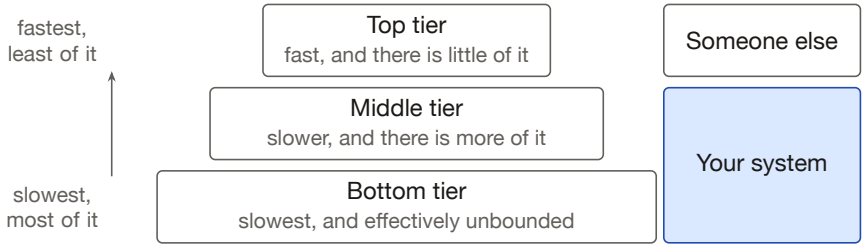
- alert is the inline accent for a single word.

Takeaway One sentence that states the point of this slide in plain language.

A frame with a diagram

Figures live under figures/

Diagrams are TikZ, kept in their own file so this one stays readable.



Takeaway The pale-blue fill marks the one thing the diagram is about.

Thank you!
